ROPOSES to issue from the office of the May, 1833, the 1st number of a monthly publication, entitled. The BOOK OF NATURE, Edited by an Association of Scientific Gentle-men of Philadelphia.

EACH NUMBER WILL CONTAIN FROM EIGHT TO TEN FINELY ENGRAVED QUARTO COPPED PLATES,

In the various departments of Natural History, each plate to contain from four to ten distinct figures, asking from 50 to 100 figures in each number. With a view to diversify the publication as much as possible, a selection of one plate from each of the following subjects will illustrate each number:

1. QUADRUPEDS, S. VERMES & Zoo 2. Birds, PHYTES, 9. BOTANY, З. Аменівіа,

4. Fisues. 10. VEGETABLE A. 5. CRUSTACEA, NATOMY, 11. GEOLOGY, 6. INSECTS. 7. SHELLS. 12. MINERALOGY.

11. GEOLOGY.

Each plate will be accompanied with a brief but satisfactory description of every subject or figure it may contain, so written as to convey a good idea of the subject, without being either of tiresome length, or so technically written, but that all may be read with pleasure. Every department of the great field of Natural History will be explored, its beauties and its aublimities unfolded, and the thousand beharms which nature to her votary yields," by the power of the pen, the pencil, and the press, will be laid before the eye of the intelligent admirer of the great works of a Divine Architect. No collection of engravings more valuable, we may confidently promise, can for many years be offered to the public at so cheap a rate. More than one hundred of these fine engravings will be given annually; to the man of taste, they will foruish subjects which he can admire from year to year, and present with pleasure to his friends the artist, and the student in Natural History, may confidently refer to them on all occasions of doubt while the juscuite of secency will become acquainted with the innabitants of the air, the ocean, and the earth. Geography can be learned only from maps or from tracel; "The Book or Nature," without taking us farther than the bookshelf or the closet, will unfold to use the congregated curiosities of the whole earth.
